

Dear Colleague,

The International Academy of Cosmetic Surgery (IACS), the International Board of Cosmetic Surgery (IBCS) in conjunction with the Colombian Academy of Aesthetic Surgery (ACCE) will be having its 52nd International Meeting of Cosmetic Surgery Cartagena, Colombia, from the 5th to the 8th of November 2008. The meeting will be hosting important aesthetic surgeons from all over the world who will be exchanging information in this growing and exciting field.

Cartagena was founded in 1533 and is an important port on the Caribbean. A walled fort was established to protect both shipping and the slave trade. You can enjoy the history, beaches, restaurants, and night life. The walled city, (Ciudad Amurallada), with tiled roofs, balconies, and flower filled courtyards gives a colonial charm for those who wish to stroll the narrow streets. There are many places to be seen by excursions outside the city.

Colombia is a wonderful country where beauty is a culture and Cartagena has been the hosting city of the "Colombian Beauty Contest" for 73 years now. That event will take place one week after our world congress, and the beauty contestants will be guests at the Hilton Hotel while our congress takes place.

We are now in the process of setting up a preliminary program and we would like to invite you to be part of this very important international event. If you are interested in being considered for a presentation, please send us a list of four topics you would like to discuss with a short abstract. Our program committee will select at least two of these topics to make a balanced and stimulating program. Each topic you would like to present must be included in one of the following symposiums which you have to indicate. Topics can be sent to the following e-mail address: lvalero@lafont.com.co
